

TEXAS SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY

Division of Research & Innovation

presents

It's time to...

Featuring interactive National Science Foundation (NSF) grant development workshops to provide early career Texas Southern University faculty with:

- 1) general information about the NSF, the merit review process and relevant NSF funding opportunities;
- 2) strategies for the successful submission of competitive grant proposals to targeted programs

*** OPEN TO ALL FACULTY *****

Session Day & Time: Wednesdays; 12:00 PM - 1:00 PM

- July 6 - Overview of NSF and NSF offerings
- July 13 - Communicating with NSF program officers and faculty's role in the merit review process
- July 20 - Exploring intellectual merit, broader impacts, and the role of research and program evaluation in your NSF project
- July 27 - Strategies for writing a NSF proposal and discussion of the components of a proposal

Speaker:
Dr. Claudia Rankins

About the Speaker: Dr. Rankins is a senior research associate for PRISSEM Academic Services, LLC, where she conducts faculty development and research development consulting activities, specifically aimed towards faculty at HBCUs pursuing National Science Foundation (NSF) funding in STEM and STEM education fields. Dr. Rankins served at Hampton University for 22 years in a number of capacities, including endowed university professor, chair of the department of physics, assistant dean for research, and dean of the School of Science. Dr. Rankins recently retired from the NSF, where she served as Program Director in the Directorate for Education and Human Resources.

Register for each zoom session.

<https://tsu-edu.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZMkfuigrD0iG9YJvrAapD3oXQ9Ei-rnsFBE>

Registration is limited to the first 20 participants per Session.