HPE Course and Program Changes

BASED ON CANDIDATE PERFORMANCE DATA

What was the program or course change that was made?

Course Change:
Candidates are now required in HED 570 (Organization and Administration of School and Community Health Education) and KIN 632 (Supervision of Health and Physical Education) to complete a field interview with internal administrative agency personnel to gain a thorough understanding of the internal structure of the agency.

Program Change:
The Health and Kinesiology department offered two different masters level programs: M.S. in Health and a M.S. in Human Performance. The department now only offers one masters level program: M.S. in Health and Human Performance with concentrations in either health or human performance.

When was the change effective?

Course Change:
Fall 2013

Program Change:
Fall 2013

On what key assessment(s) did the data indicate that a change needed to be made?

Course Change:
Reflective Observation of Field Experience Guidelines and Rubric

Program Change:
Data provided from the graduate school and actual student registration in the academic year 2010-2011 and 2011-2012 indicated that the M.S. in Human Performance enrollment was continually below average.

When was the assessment(s) administered that indicated a change needed to be made?

Course Change:
Fall 2012

Program Change:
Academic Year 2010-12 and 2012-13
What did the data say that indicated a change needed to be made?

Course Change:
#1: Approximately 14% of the candidates received a limited or baseline understanding score on the Reflective Observation of Field Experience Guidelines and Rubric on their ability connect the field experience to prior coursework and knowledge.

#2: Approximately 19% of the candidates were competent and demonstrated awareness of pedagogical issues on the Reflective Observation of Field Experience Guidelines and Rubric.

Program Change:
#1: During the 2010-2011 academic years, the M.S. in Human Performance Program showed that 4 students were enrolled.

#2: During the 2011-2012 academic years, the M.S. in Human Performance Program showed that 13 students were enrolled.

Please attach the evidence that the change was made.

Course Change:
Reflective Observation of Field Experience Guidelines and Rubric (see attachment)

Program Change:
The Health and Kinesiology Department combined the M.S. programs to one program the M.S. in Health and Human Performance with a concentration in Health or Human Performance. (see attachment)