Series VI: Speeches, 1952-1996

Jordan's speech files consist of materials saved from Jordan's public appearances, some as early as 1952. The speeches themselves consist of drafts (many with Jordan's handwritten corrections and notations), edited and finished versions, duplicated versions, and in some cases transcriptions of speeches after the fact. The "Handwritten Speeches" box has several speeches written out by Jordan in longhand; these particular materials are fragile and must be handled with care, and in some cases the original copy may not be available to researchers. However, a digital copy or a photocopy of the speech will be made available. Please contact the Archivist for more information.
